WE NOMINATE

Mary Lilly (Mrs. Geoffrey) Sage, who next Thursday — as the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross rounds out another year of distinguished community service — will be relinquishing her responsibilities as the Chapter's Executive Director, a post she has filled with distinction and grace for some two decades, to concentrate on the direction of the Red Cross Youth Program. While the Red Cross' abiding strength is rooted in the volunteer spirit, its sense of continuity and its capacity for rising to meet human needs are attributable in ample measure to the skill and dedication of professional workers of Mrs. Sage's calibre and insights.

Of all of the services carried forward by the Princeton Chapter the two most closely identified with this 60-year old native of Ellicott City, Md., are the ever-mushrooming Junior Red Cross and the 16-year old Blood Donor Program. The former, chartered nationally in the heat of World War I by Woodrow Wilson, now reaches out to 13,000 Princeton-Area youngsters in 36 public, parochial and independent schools and is an excellent training-ground for future community leaders. The Free Blood Donor Service, jointly sponsored by Princeton Hospital and the Red Cross, has provided some 13,000 life-giving pints to Hospital patients.

The scope of Mrs. Sage's far-ranging interests is reflected in the Junior Red Cross, whose local membership has almost tripled since the mid-1950's. Recognized by National Red Cross Headquarters as one of the nation's dozen outstanding "youth programs," the Princeton Juniors have gone far beyond the traditional three-point platform (Protection of Health, Service, and International Understanding) in helping staff summer activities for handicapped children in Mercer

County, in advancing school-to-school exchanges with communities as distant as Australia, and in inspiring from several parts of the country inquiries as "how to do it."

Mrs. Sage, the wife of Princeton's veteran Director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control (and the newly named Borough Collector), has been associated with the Princeton Chapter ever since she first saw Nassau Street early in World War II. With her, husband's assignment to the staff of the Princeton Naval Training Schools, she reported for duty as a Red Cross volunteer — as she had previously done at the Bremerton, Wash., Navy Yard, in New York City and again in Baltimore during the period her husband, a career Naval Officer, was commanding a vessel in the North Atlantic. In June, 1944, she was named to the post of Executive Secretary.

Although close friends insist that Mrs. Sage's abiding love has been the Junior Red Cross, the Executive Director, an alumna of Johns Hopkins University and for some 8 years an effective teacher in Baltimore Schools, has been closely identified with all of the forward strides the Red Cross has taken over the past two decades. Upon her has fallen — and often at incredible hours — the burden of 100's upon 100's of Home Service Calls, the organization and direction of emergency services, and the myriad details involved in administering undertakings that month after month have involved well over 600 volunteer workers.

For her devotion to the humanitarian ideals which have been the pivotal factors in the continuing evolution of the Red Cross; for her largely unsung services to this community and to its citizens; for inspiring oncoming generations to "reach out to the un-reached"; she is our nominee as

SCHOOL MERGER BACKED
Reasons Favor "Yes" Vote.
"Princeton has the intellectual resources and the community interest to develop a unified school system that could become one of the 'lighthouse' systems, providing leadership to the country in effective, creative education."

TOWN TOPICS endorses this conclusion of the Borough and Township Boards of Education, as stated in their joint study, "Blue Book" report and this week announces its formal support of a single regionalized Princeton school system.

The deciding referendum will be held October 7. This Tuesday night, the Borough Board of Education once again asked for public comment at its monthly meeting, and it will do so each month on the fourth Tuesday at 8 p.m., until the referendum. (See "Topics of the Town.")

These are the bases for TOWN TOPICS' support: • Princeton is a single community. By joining its two fine school systems into a single, even finer system, it will give its young people a stronger, better and broader education than they could obtain from either system operating alone.

• Merger can be accomplished without significant changes in cost to either Borough or Township, but if the two districts separate, both would face substantially higher costs than they do now.

• Both School Boards are officially in favor of merger, and all nine members of the Borough Board and all nine members of the Township Board signed the Blue Book report. (Two Borough members have serious reservations but there has never been a formal minority report.)

• Both superintendents of Borough and Township have announced their firm support of merger because they believe it to be in the best interests of the children. These are professionals with years of experience in teaching, school administration and education generally. And one of them stands to lose his job if merger does not effect.

Merger Thoroughly Studied. The idea of merging Borough and Township systems under New Jersey's regionalization law is one which has been studied and examined, probed and mulled, discussed and explored. It is no hasty decision, rescinded of part of someone's head, and the supporting statistics in the Blue Book are thorough and overwhelming.

TOWN TOPICS recommends to all its readers this Blue Book report, written by the two boards of education after they had finished their study. Copies are available at the Male's Book Shop, the Princeton Public Library, the Borough and Borough and Township Halls. It is sad to report that there are still many, many copies remaining from the printing of 5,000 released last March.

Underlying the Blue Book's position on merger is the fact that the Borough and Township schools are much more alike than they are different and much more similar to each other than either one is to the various high school sending districts.

Borough-Township children come from college-oriented homes. Even parents who did not attend college want their children to. Eighty-four percent Borough and 91½ Township parents expect boys and girls to attend college. Only 7½ sending district parents do.

Borough-Township high school children win more high class rankings than would be expected from their proportion in the total high school population.

It is, in short, a homogeneous "Princeton" population. It belongs together, not only in the high school, but in all the grades leading up to it, so that all Princeton children have the same background—a thorough 12th-grade experience, hence.

Township May Leave. Lack of this "K-12" continuity is one reason the Borough has withdrawn from the high school and built its own high school. The Township is voted down. The Township has 40% of the high school population and a tuition bill of half a million a year. The Borough has 20% of the high school population and complete control of all high school policies.

This means, of course, that the Borough controls, indirectly, many Township policies at the lower grades because Township teachers must prepare their students for the high school curriculum. Both Boards agree that the Township should have a voice in directing the high school.

If the Township leaves the Blue Book report, written by the two boards of education after they had finished their study. Copies are available at the Male's Book Shop, the Princeton Public Library, the Borough and Borough and Township Halls. It is sad to report that there are still many, many

Register Before August 26

Newly-eligible voters are reminded by the League of Women Voters that they must register before August 26 in order to vote in the October school board referendum.

The League is encouraging registrations before vacations begin. Requirements are: United States citizenship, 21 years of age, residence in New Jersey for six months and Mercer County residence for 60 days. The Township and Borough Clerks' offices are open from 9 to 5, Monday through Friday.

A new school for its 900-1000 high school students would cost the Township about 10% rise in the tax rate. To support a first-rate program would mean a 30% property tax increase or $45 a year more on a $30,000 house.

But merger, carried out under the state's regionalization provisions, would result in no significant change in the school tax rates of either municipality, and the Blue Book assures Borough and Township residents alike that "reticence can consider regionalization on the educational merits of the case without concern for immediate financial consideration."

The Arguments Against. Although no formal groups have come out against merger so far, various objections to it have been raised by individuals. Here are some of them, with answers:

• "It would mean the end of the Princeton Plan." The "Blue Book" promises that there would be Negro children in the seven merged schools, riding to school on integrated buses. The Rev. Albert B. Tyson, Negro pastor of

And Other Succulents. The Borough Board of Education met its public again Tuesday at a school merger question-and-answer session after the regular meeting.

"Can a group request withdrawal of Federal funds distributed in the schools?" She was told by Borough Attorney William Miller that Federal support of Princeton schools is infinitesimal.

"Along with integration, it takes a strong parent to help a child stand being called a 'white Nigger,'" her neighbor, Mrs. Inez Aldrich of 229 John Street said, "and I am faced with this. When you go into a school situation you will always find the Negro children by themselves. . . . The education and economic background cannot cope with those in the Riverside area."

"Wouldn't it be better," she added, "to ascertain the John Witherspoon School's policy on integration" — let the Township students go where they are going and the high school students go where they are going?"

Board member Robert A. Lively replied, "We want a grouping in the classes. The culturally-deprived pupil will get better education, more attention. . . . He will move faster."

Orren Jack Turner inserted, "This system that you are proposing is completely artificial to many Negro, so many whites, Jews, Catholics and so on."

"It's as artificial as the Borough-Township lines!" rejoined

"The emphasis in the high school seems to be on the college-oriented students under the merger," commented Stuart Carothers of 125 Library Place. "Will the Borough still be fairly covered with a program for the non-college-bound student?"

"The merger," Thomas G. Moore of 136 board state "tends to stabilize public education in the community, and that's the thing that should be of prime importance."

Of School Property. So many prospective buyers of the Witherspoon School, Quarry Street, have fallen off the hook that the Borough Board of Education voted Tuesday to ask the Planning Board and Borough Council for a re-zoning of the property.

A number of potential buyers have thought of the school in terms of apartments. The present zoning calls for 3,000 sq. ft. of space per dwelling.

Mr. Carothers reminded the board that "Conant stresses the complete high school. I think we are going in the direction of a very select high school body. This could ultimately change the high school to a public private school."

Poll Results Given. Mrs. Sally Shy of 40 Pine Street, executive secretary of the Princeton Friends of Public Education, read a summary of an opinion sampling undertaken by Princeton pollsters. "As of now," she said, "87% of the Borough favor regionalization, 21% are against and 17% are undecided. In the Township, 84% favor, 4% are against and 12% undecided."

"She stated that the questionnaire was not available to the public but that a more complete report will be released in about a week."

"I asked a woman the other day what she thought about merger," Mrs. Edwards continued, and she said, 'what merger?' When are you going to get to the people? There are so many people in town who don't know there's a Blue Book report of the study committee on school regionalization. The Blue Book is not even in women's language, but your big brass, high-cut neighbor knows what it means. You can communicate technically but not to the little man."

"Why don't you block off an area — they're already on the street — have a block party, beer and pretzels. . . . talk with them. If the people want to come here, go to them. Half of these people in my section are in the middle of the street with any group. They don't care about FAIRH (Princeton Association for Human Rights) but about anything but themselves after an eight-hour day."

unit. The $1,100 sq ft property would permit 20 units. The Board will request design variance for a maximum of 36 dwelling units.

Various suggestions for community use of the building have been received. Board President Graham Kauter noted, but the funds to back them were not being forthcoming. The board has been invited by PAHR to attend next Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting at the school to discuss its future. Would-be buyers, it was stated, have discovered that the cost of tearing down the school is economically unfeasible.

NYDIK RESIGNS

Wolkoff to Replace Him
David Nydik has resigned as assistant superintendent of Township Schools to assume the same post in Jerrie, Lang and Dr. John J. McKenna, Jr., township superintendent, announced Mr. Nydik's resignation at the Board of Education meeting Thursday.

John Wolkoff, principal of Valley Road, has accepted a nine-year appointment as acting assistant superintendent and Mrs. Mary Ballard has agreed to serve as acting Valley Road principal for one year, replacing Mr. Wolkoff. The acting designation and the one year terms were imposed because of the uncertainties hanging on the regionalization vote in October.

LAUNCH The Township's program for youngsters who need an extra push will be held again this summer, starting July 27 and continuing to the third week in August.

"We chose August purposely so that the end of LAUNCH and the beginning of school would come close together," explained Dr. McKenna. He said that 33 children had been invited to participate, but until all the parents had replied, he would not know how many would take part.

The Township has scheduled two sections for pre-kindergarten, "we hope most of them didn't go to nursery school," Dr. McKenna commented; one section for first graders and one group for boys and girls who need an extra year of first-grade instruction.

LAUNCH will be held in Community Park School, and will be largely a reading program, with general orientation.

Send Some Our Way

Flood waters rampage in Colo. and Kan. All I can see is a lawn That's light tan.

That's the story of weather; too much in one place, too little in another. While floods continue to give the western states more than they want, the drought grows steadily worse in these parts.

The current heat wave should end by Friday, with a pleasant weekend in prospect. There is, however, no lingering rain in sight.

na and This is LAUNCH's second year.

No "Head Start." The Township has withdrawn its sponsorship of "Head Start" program. Dr. McKenna said of Dr. McKenna, Jr., because there were too many poverty qualifications. "We'd look pretty silly next to some other communities that really need that program," he remarked.

The Borough School Board had written the Township School Board asking support of the Borough's stand in favor of a Mercer County Community College with special attention to vocational education.

The Township Board promptly, heartily and eagerly asserted the Borough's request, deciding to use the word "use" in writing to Mercer County Freeholders.

Car Ran? Well... In another request from the Borough Board, the Township was more hesitant. Borough school board members had asked Township board members their opinion on the possibility of banning student cars at Princeton High School.

"Anything that would discourage the number of cars would be all to the good," was the Township consensus. But how would a ban be enforced and by whom? Which students would be exempt?

The Board finally decided to write the Borough expressing deep sympathy with the problem, but asking for more information, and suggesting that the question be placed on the next agenda of the Advisory Committee.

Fifteen junior high boys and girls will participate this summer in an enrichment program designed by the Princeton Study Center. The group will meet five days a week from July 6 to August 20, and the board on Thursday agreed to let the class use a Community Park classroom and the library. Dr. McKenna told the Board.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you approve of the Beatles receiving the Order of the British Empire medal from Queen Elizabeth?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Jean McKee, 55 Patton Avenue, PHS junior: No, I don't think they deserved it. I don't like the Beatles period. I think they're STINK! I could think of a lot more deserving people, let's put it that way.

Arlene Panico, 23 Wilton Street, PHS junior: No, I think if you're going to give a medal to some singing group, the Rolling Stones should have gotten it. They are much better singers.

Marisa Roud, 285 Snowden Lane, PHS junior: I don't think they deserve it because there must be hundreds of others who have done more for England than they have.

Mike Figueroa, Trenton waiter, for Nassau Inn: Yes, I like to see them get it. My opinion is that there were so many singing groups before the Beatles but they were discarded — they had something, everyone copied them. I think they helped promote England in their own way and I can't agree with those who are sending their medals back.

Pamela Washington, Shady Brook Lane, PHS freshman: I think it's utterly stupid. I hate the Beatles. I don't think they deserve it. All they do is sin what they call music. It's a whole bunch of nonsense. I don't think the medal is worth anything, now that they have it. The ones who really served their country — the war heroes and so on — are the ones who deserve it.

John Marcus, 22 Alexander Street: Yes, they deserve it. They're magnificent. They deserve anything they can get.

Mrs. David Wilkinson, Faculty Road, housewife: I may be cynical but I think the Order of the British Empire Medal, the Queen and the Empire are out of date. It's of little consequence but I would agree with those who say it loses its significance when they start awarding it to pop singers.

Carl Phillips, Dutch Neck, PHS sophomore: No, I don't exactly approve of it. They didn't do anything specific to earn it. Sure, they're a big smash, but others who have earned it have done something more heroic. I don't blame some for sending theirs back. I'd send mine back, too. I think it degrades it.

Jo Baker, Great Road, PHS junior: No, I think they're repulsive a time but I'm not so sure they should get a medal. They're just a lid. I don't think they've contributed anything lately to England or the world. I understand it, this medal is given for service to England; they haven't performed any service that I can see. I don't think others should send their medals back. If they were selected to receive this medal, I think they should be proud of it and keep it.

Dick Wintertbottom, 80 Erdman Avenue, PHS sophomore: In a way I approve, because they've given England recognition all over the world, especially with the younger people, but then again, do you consider the Beatles worthy of the country as compared to what Churchill did or other political leaders who strove for peace? It's a question of who the Beatles really did. Did they do more than the person who is trying to make England a better place to live?

Miss Diane Tiley, Trenton, cataloger for Firestone Library: I think if she wanted to give it to them, it's her right. The Beatles have brought enthusiasm wherever they've gone. This is what the kids want.

Mrs. Lynn Ruess, Trenton, searcher, Firestone Library: Yes, I think they've done England a lot of good, they've promoted good will by traveling all over the world and they've taken a lot of money back to England. They've boosted her economy a lot — they should get more than a medal. I'm not crazy about the Beatles but they're clean and well-cut.

Loralee Engelmann, Belle Mead, PHS junior: No, what have they done that's really outstanding? To me, that British Empire medal is something that should be given to someone who contributed to the advancement of the nation — like astronauts. But what have the Beatles done? Sure, they're good singers and you can dance to their records. Big deal. What are they going to do: send rock'n'rollers to the moon? I think this gives a bad impression for the future of England.

Jill Hammer, 101 Larrison Place, student at Garrison Forest, Md.: Not really, I don't think they've performed any service. I don't think going around singing shows love for your country. Anybody can sing. If you gave medals to all who came over here like Hermon's Hermits or the Rolling Stones, you wouldn't have enough to go around. I think it's right. Those who stood up for their country and fought for it — like Winston Churchill — are the ones who deserve it. Not the Beatles. Giving it to someone for singing degrades it.

News Of The THEATRES

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Von Ryan's Express now playing is an excellent production of David Westheimer's best seller. It is a World War II story of the hair-raising adventures of a group of Allied prisoners of war who engineer a mass escape from the Nazis by train. Frank Sinatra, once again proves himself as an actor in the role of a USAF colonel who misunderstands the escape attempt. Trevor Howard is also second in command, playing the part of a hard-bitten British major. Suspense at times reaches almost unbearable proportions as the Allied officers impregnate Germany and the German command realizes something is amiss. The excitement is increased by the use of actual locations, following the escape route from the Adriatic in Italy, across to Rome, north to Bologna and Milan, and then through the Italian Alps to the Swiss border.

THE GARDEN
The main plot through Tuesday's is a highly interesting and suspenseful account of a little-known but true incident of World War II, concerning an attempt by the German fleeing France to take with them a trainload of valuable art treasures stolen from French museums.

Burt Lancaster is a member of the French Resistance group who is assigned to prevent the train from leaving the country, and must do so without damaging any of the paintings. Paul Field does an excellent job as German Colonel, who is highly appreciative of the monetary and artistic value of the art. Champman of the Daily News and Brooks Atkinson said "the freshest and funniest show of the year."

The action centers on the secret schemes which the French patriots employ to sabotage the engine of the train, and the German soldiers taken by the German soldiers. The interrupted act and excellent effort from the picture make it a worthwhile diversion from a quiet summer evening.

From the writings of James Thurber have been woven into "A Thruer Carnival" opening Monday for a two-week run at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope.

Edna Bracken and Dody Goodman will star, and Jimmy Brown, the Philadelphia Eagle pro, will leave the backfield temporarily to make his legitimate stage debut.

Excerpts from the adventures of Walter Mitty the tale of "The Unicorn in the Garden," "Mr. Proke Gets Rid of His Wife," "The Macbeth Murder Mystery" and "If Grand Had Been Breaking at Appointments" are all part of the show. "Just plain wonderful," was the verdict of John Champman of the Daily News and Brooks Atkinson said "the freshest and funniest show of the year."

"TORUM" IN CIRCUS
Through July 4, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" is still the big attraction in the big tent play at the Garden Theatre in Lambertville tonight. Tuesdays through Fridays at 8:30. It will run through Sunday July 4. Other performances times are Saturdays at 8 and 9:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30.

ADUCTIONS FOR "BIRDIE"
At Music Circus, young singers and music groups are invited to audition before St. John Terrell himself for the Lambertville Music Circus production of "Bye, Bye Birdie" to be given July 6 through 11.

This should be a nice chance for Princeton High School students who appeared in this spring in the school's "Birdie." Seven winners will be chosen by Mr. Terrell and each will get a chance to appear in a performance of the musical. Individual performances, vocal groups and instrumental combinations interested in auditions should register by calling the Circus at 397-1500.

We're Jes' Country Folks from Library Place

Buying for autumn and winter always occupies dress shop owners on pleasant June days, and Elise Goupil is no exception.

On a buying round in New York, not long ago, Miss Goupil was flustering, choosing and making notes for fall purchases when a dress and fabric man, who had been watching her, expressed puzzled surprise at the things she was passing by.

"These new fabrics—they're terrific!" he exclaimed. "Why aren't you buying any?"

They were opulent wools and wool mohairs, nubbed silk tuxedos and the like, all characterized by deep textures and looping strands of warp and wool.

"We're country people in Princeton," Miss Goupil replied. "No Princeton woman could possibly go in and out of cars the way we do all day every day, dressed in those fabrics; the threads would pull into loops, the rough textures would catch on something every time a woman got behind the wheel—impossible! We are," she concluded, "a SUTTING community."

Asked to explain what she meant, Miss Goupil said that New York is, by contrast, a "standing" community. "Women walk or stand in subway—they would sit in a cab if they could, but who can get a cab? When they go to parties, it's a cocktail party and they stand. But in Princeton we are," she smiled with a Gallic shrug, "just country people!"

Yes, I think the Beatles brought a lot of recognition to England. They were the first national artists just for rock & roll singers and I feel the Beatles are an exception in their own way. They not only sing but write all their own songs at the same time.

Elayne Kramer, Belle Med,
PHS junior: I like the Beatles but I think they are a lot of other groups that could do the same thing. Just because the Beatles were the first, you can't give everybody medals.
We could have given Elvis Presley a medal, too, because he was just as big as the Beatles in his time. No, I don't think they should have gotten any medals. They've done a little bit for their country, I think they're a good group, good to listen to—I like them.
I really do—but I feel there are more deserving people.

Anthony Firooz, 16 Hillside Road, PHS senior: Yes, they deserve it—anything—because they're great!

sailboat. It's five inches long, when it starts. For $2, you get three boats in a plastic bag.
And for camp... $1.50 for a wrist compass that can get dropped or lost. "Please Write" a red or black notebook good and thick, with envelopes and stamps right there.
And for stay-at-homes... the felt calendar with stickem felt circles that announce "My Birthday," "Thunder & Storm," and other important physical data.

GOT YOUR SEERUCKER?
And Your Ticket! If you've got your ticket, you've got half your travel plans completed. A seerucker of two to three in, will finish you off.
Elise Goupil's seerucker blends look like dresses made of ribbons. One three-piece has white, teal and grey stripes which look for all the world like heavy taffeta ribbon. The dress itself is light but durable with a curving collar and an overblouse.
A second seerucker achieves a deft rearrangement of stripes through the use of darts and insets in which the stripes go the opposite direction. Tailored collar and white pique overblouse.
Glen plaid folds into box pleats in one dress. This is one-piece dress, not skirt and over-blouse, and it has a boned jacket with elbow sleeves. The gingham dress, for country travel, has short sleeves covered by the elbow-length sleeves of the matching jacket.
All the seeruckers are drip-dry, but you must treat them like drip-dry, not like somebody's cotton or sweatshirt, which can be casually tossed to the bleachers.
Moving away from seerucker, we turn to Elise Goupil's "Kand of navy, grey and white, stirred together in a tweed suit, piped with navy and held together by five small ball buttons.
The silk tweed suit in its soft rose shade, has a surprise inside: avocado silk lining and an avocado silk shell.

FOAMING WITH COOLNESS
That Germaine Mottel is quite a girl. Her latest is "Beauty Cool," a foaming spray in a pressurized container to foam all over yourself after a shower or a high-speed game of tennis.
The vendor is Thorne's, right on Nassau Street, the price $4. Another summer present from Germaine Mottel is the collection of lipsticks in those shimmering shells tints like essence of mother-of-pearl.

Tina "super-luminous lip-lick" (the adjective is Germaine's) comes in pink, coral, beige and mauve — soft shades which are becoming under a strong sun or a pale moon. And with a tin...
"Diorling," the new Dior perfume from last fall, has been packaged for summer in a "vaporisateur," which is $10 or for the kind of spray that is no under pressure. For travel, Thorne's has Diorling in a four-ounce spray for $7, or three ounces for $6.
Replique keeps you cool with its toilet water spray in a lovely cool column two and one-half ounces for $3 and du-shary plunges you into a du-bath. "Paradox," is the milk bath and also the dusting powder. It's puff in a heavenly powder blue, and a body cream.

Coty puts "L'Amant" and "Emeraude" take under pressure to let a cooling, misty dust against your skin on the warmest day, and Matchabelli comes again with "Summer Shower," that leafy green fragrance you remember from summer gone by. Dusting powder, soap, bubble bath, cream sachet and cologne from $1.25 to $2.50 from the Prince.

The ladies who wear Liberty Lavan prints will find Vandyke's new cologne, moisturizing level cologne, in fragrant colors like Sea Jade or Amethyst, held within faceted decanters that are even just to look at.

 That the Township will apply this summer for Federal funds available under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Aid Law. The Township will submit its project for drama, music and dance in the schools, a program first proposed to the Board by Dr. McKenna more than a year ago.

The Township cafeteria system, a red ink operation for some time, now has about $4,000 in surplus, and has been running a healthy surplus for four months, reported Norman Anderson, School Board Secretary.

"We had a two-cent reduction in our Federal reimbursement, but a 76% increase in government surplus foods," Mr. Anderson told the Board. "It means 1,400 pounds of peanut butter. And a case of hourly grits."

"The grits is a loss leader," observed B. O. A. D. president George Garcia. "You have to take that to get the rest."

"I THIR'D IT"

Burns Re-Named B. Franklin Bunn, now a seneey 90 years of age, has accepted another, also-year term on the Township Planning Board. His re-appointment was made Monday night by Township Committee and after the moving-and-receding had been polished off, Committeeman John D. Green grinned and said, "I thir'd it."

"Open Space" continued to unfold as Committee passed the ordinance authorizing purchase of the 22.5 University-Pennypacker acres off Drakes Corner Road, and introduced the ordinance for purchase of the 55 Harrop acres.

University-Pennypacker land will cost $42,500, but with state-Federal cooperation, the Township will pay only 20%. Harrop land will be $165,650, but with State, Federal and Borough cooperation, the Township will pay only 10% of the cost. Public hearing on the Harrop ordinance, July 19.

Committee decided to table the Planning Board's recommendation to adopt the recommended zoning ordinance because many Township residents who might want to attend the public hearing would be away on vacation.

Easements are all in, and so Committee awarded the contract for construction of the second part of the Hillside Avenue sewer. The winner, William Bucci for $14,408.

The Traffic Safety Committee has suggested that the name of Hillside Road be changed to Loomis Court and Oakland Road to Hickory Court. Hillside-Loomis and Oakland-Hickory are actually the same street, divided in each case by Walnut Lane. Additional confusion arises where in the Township Committee deferred decision so that residents may have a chance to speak.

Will Gulick Road be changed to "Bradley Court"? No decision yet.

DRIVER FINED $200

For Revoked List Violation, Louis Seitz, 47, Stuart Road, was fined $200 and $5 court costs by Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr. last week for driving while on a revoked list. Mr. Seitz also received a 90-day suspended sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse.

Mrs. Zell D. Pattinson, 42, 16 Jeffery Lane, Princeton Junction, paid $50 for reckless driving. Fines of $10 for careless driving were levied against Fred W. Capers, 54, no YEARS YOUNG: B. Franklin Bunn, long considered "Mr. Princeton" by the many residents of the community who have worked with him on one or more of the many organizations he has served, marks his 90th birthday this Thursday. For a tribute on the occasion, see pages 24 and 25.

Carier Road, and Walter C. Tash Jr., 18, 44 Jefferson Road.

For driving 63 m.p.h. in a 45-m.p.h. zone, Stephen C. Bromley, 28, Graduate College, was fined $10. In addition, his license was revoked for 30 days.

In Borough court, West Windsor Township Magistrate A. C. Reeves Hicks, sitting in for Theodore T. Time Jr., ordered Bernard A. Torney, 65, 25 Hawthorne Avenue, $200 Monday for careless driving. Mr. Torney pleaded guilty.

In criminal court, Linwood V. Panell, 23, 481 Stockton Street, was fined $50 for loitering and creating a disturbance on the University campus while under the influence of alcohol. Campus officer Sam Sennella reported he found Panell in one of the buildings early in the morning during reunion weekend.

The Department of Motor Vehicles suspended for 30 days the license of Joyce S. Bush, 21, Camp Meeting Road, Skillman. She was halted under the 60-70 Excessive Speed Program.

about 40 miles per hour when the truck she was following suddenly stopped. In applying her brakes to avoid a collision, she skidded into the opposite lane. Police said that it was raining at the time and the road was slippery.

The impact of the collision forced Mrs. Simpson's car to travel backwards. It spun around and hit the right rear fender of a parked car owned by David J. Scott, 41 E. Olden Lane.

The accident took place at 11:30 a.m. The entire front end and windshield of the Pearson car was damaged. The front and rear of the Simpson car were crumpled. Mrs. Simpson received lacerations to both knees and her hip.

Car Goes Out of Control. Bobby Lee Farley, 37, of Levittown Pa., received internal injuries and a fractured rib when his car ran out of control Friday evening at 91 on Cherry Hill Road near Red Hill Road. Several witnesses saw his white convertible hit two poles and a tree before coming to a stop.

Mr. Farley told police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car. His car left the roadway in a cloud of dust, glanced off a pole, veered across Cherry Hill Road and first hit a large tree and then a second pole.

Police said Mrs. Farley was knocked unconscious. Police made no charges.

Assaulted convertible left Cherry Valley Road at 12:39 a.m. Sunday and struck a pole. Mrs. Jeanne C. Schlesinger, 37, of Doylestown Pa. told police she became upset and lost control of her car. It went to the right, hit a pole, and had to be towed away.

Mrs. Schlesinger was not injured. Her husband, Frank, 37, received a bump on his forehead. There were no charges.

Pre-occupied. A Trenton woman, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Delahanty, 49, was treated at Princeton Hospital for scalp cuts, following a two-car crash Monday morning at the intersection of Western Way and Broadstreet.

Police quoted Mrs. Delahanty as telling them her mind was preoccupied and she failed to notice the stop sign at the foot of Broadstreet. She was given a summons.

Mrs. Delahanty collided with a 1963 station wagon driven by David L. Crawford, 42, 231 Riverside Drive.

In the Borough, Charles H. Robinson, 28, of Doylestown Park, was ticketed for careless driving and driving without a license, following a single car accident on Witherspoon Street Monday at 5:22 p.m.

Mr. Robinson told police a blowout in his right front tire forced his car to swerve into a parked car owned by Phillip Hudson of 197 Witherspoon Street. Mr. Hudson's car was pushed over the sidewalk for a distance of 60 feet before coming to rest in front of the window of the Imperial Restaurant. Police added Mr. Robinson's car left 50 feet of skid marks. He was not injured.

Police charged Robert H. Jackson of Trenton, the owner of the 1964 car Mr. Robinson was driving, with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

THORN LORD FOUND DEAD
Death Ruled a Suicide.
Thorn Lord, 58, of Province
Line Road, State and Mercer County Democratic leader, was found dead last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mercer County Judge Clifton
C. Bennett, 67 Woodland Drive.

Mr. Lord, a close, longtime friend of Judge Bennett, was separated from his wife and had been staying at Mr. Bennett's home for several days.
Judge Bennett saw him alive
last at breakfast Wednesday morning.

The judge said he returned home about 4:25 p.m. from the Mercer County Court House, and found a note written on lawyer's letter paper in an upstairs living room. He called Township police, who arrived and after a short search found Mr. Lord's body in a lower level room.

Assistant Mercer County Prosecutor Edward Phelan said Mr. Lord apparently strangled himself with an electrical cord similar to those used with electric chainsaws. He explained that the plastic covering over the cord evidently caused it to remain tightly wrapped around the neck even after Mr. Lord had lost consciousness.

Native of New Jersey. Born in Plainfield, Mr. Lord graduated from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and received his law degree from the University of North Carolina. In 1951, he came to Trenton to be a law clerk for a federal judge.

During the next few years,
Mr. Lord built up a close personal friendship with Governor Richard J. Hughes, who preceded him as county chairman of the Democrats, and with whom he was associated in legal practice for many years. He took control of the Democratic Party in 1948, and only a few days before his death was elected to a second four-year term as the head of the Democratic State Committee.

Although he worked hard to elect others, Mr. Lord ran only twice for office. In 1960, he challenged Clifford C. Case for the United States Senate, but lost in a one-sided race.
He had previously been elected to the Lawrence Township

Men! You, Too, Can Play at Strategy

And earn $10 at the same time. The Department of Social Psychology at the University needs 500 men, age 18 to 35, to play at war games this summer under a grant from the Office of Naval Research.

The games concern decision-making, how well do certain types of individuals process the information they are given? In a "constructed group" — that is, a group deliberately put together with certain kinds of people — how do the different and differing personalities interact?

Men who are interested should call 452-4453 and sign up for an hour of personality tests. These are designed to tell whether the subject is a "concrete" or an "abstract" (or a mixture of both), and whether he is "dominant" or "passive" or a mixture of both.

Then the groups are assembled and the fun begins. Four "situations" have been set up, the most interesting one being a Seige game resembling chess in which opposing teams move pieces on a board and try to surround the opponents' Emperor.

But the teams are in separate rooms and cannot see one another's move. The only information they have consists of fragments given them by a moderator.

There are also a radar-tactical tank and a war game, both complex maneuvers using hypothetical equipment. In the fourth "situation" the individual works alone manipulating rods and frames the so-called "Wilkins rods and frames" familiar to psychologists.

Pay is $1.50 an hour, minimum $10. After the one-hour tests, subjects spend a six-hour day (a Saturday) on the games themselves.

No women need apply. "We have enough variables as it is," says an assistant in the department, Dr. Bertram N. Knollin in charge.

Topics Of The Town

 Committee and had served as police commissioner.

Mr. Lord is survived by his wife, the former Nina Underwood of Belmont, Mass. Thorn Jr., 25, a son by a former marriage, and a daughter, Nina, 19. The funeral was held at All Saint's Chapel of Trinity Church, followed by cremation.

THOMPSON IS NAMED

To Succeed Thorn Lord, Congressman Frank Thompson Jr. has been named chairman of the Mercer County Democratic committee following nomination by Gov. Richard J. Hughes. He will succeed the late Thorn Lord.

Gov. Hughes acted quickly in a move to prevent a possible battle for party control in his home county in a gubernatorial year. Since Mr. Lord had no heir apparent, many believed there was a strong possibility of an intra-party struggle, if the Governor did not move rapidly.

Congressman Thompson said he planned to serve the full year's term, but would give serious thought to stepping down after that. However, until Congress adjourns around Labor Day he pointed out that he would have to delegate much of his authority.

The Congressman made it clear that he would take complete charge of party activities when he returns to Trenton. In addition to the gubernatorial race, all the county's seats in the legislature, plus county and municipal offices, are at stake in November.

In other action in the wake of Mr. Lord's death, the executive committee of the Princeton Democratic Association has unanimously passed the following resolution:

Resolved: The executive committee of the Princeton Democratic Association "extends to the family of Thorn Lord deepest sympathy at the tragic loss of this devoted associate and leader. For more than 30 years, Mr. Lord has worked strenuously with and for the citizens of Mercer County. Toward the affairs of the Democratic Party and toward the problems of the community at large, he tirelessly devoted his extraordinary energy and his unique intelligence."

Thorn Lord translated into his daily conduct that aggressive liberalism which is the hallmark of the democratic credo. The statement that we shall miss him transcends the formal and embodies a sincere sense of loss."

STORY TELLERS RETURN

To Summer Playgrounds. Since 1956, the Princeton Public Library has sponsored a program of story-telling at playgrounds throughout the community. Each week during the summer, groups of young listeners gather on the grass before the story lady to hear tales of magic and adventure.

This year's program has been coordinated by Mrs. Jan Chang, children's librarian. Starting Monday, 90 story sessions will be held this summer in 11 parks and playgrounds. The weekly schedule: Mondays, 10:30; Harrison Street, Johnson Park, Little Brook 1 p.m.; John Street Tuesday, 10:30; Marquand Park, Riverside; 3 p.m. Pine Street, Wednesday 10:30; Erdman Avenue, Grover Avenue, High School, and Community Park.

In all 26 women have volunteered as story tellers this year. Many of them have been telling stories year after year.

They are Mesdames Kathleen Blumfield, Fleur Chandler, Theresa Caplan, Nicholas Costa, Barbara Fields, Greacian Goeke, Richard Katen, Maile Krahnbuhl, Arthur Lithgow, Rita Ludlum, Trude Parson, Geoffrey Sage and Donald Semmabach.

Also Eleanor Thomas, Edna Hunter, Miriam Klobben, Lore Lindfield, Shirley Lore, Dean Meyerson, Marian B. Maxwell, Oscar Rothaus, Dorothy Sans, Ruth Schulman, Martha Ann Zerp, Miss Elizabeth Margachous and Miss Therese Critchlow.

USE THE KEYBOARD: David Kraehenbuehl, musical director of The New School for Music Study, has developed a new approach to teaching theory and harmony at the keyboard. Mrs. Doris M. Cotton, a staff member, will present a workshop on the system next Thursday, July 1.

MUSIC

In Princeton

HOW TO TEACH THEORY
Workshop Planned. All piano and music teachers and their students in the Princeton area are invited to attend a lecture-demonstration on "Teaching Music Theory at the Piano" to be held Thursday, July 1 from 8:30 to 1 at the New School for Music Study, 353 Nassau Street.

The workshop, to be sponsored by the music department of the Princeton University Store, will be held under the direction of Doris Martin Cotton, faculty member at The New School and for many years a member of the Frances Clark Library workshop staff. Mrs. Cotton is a professional pianist.

The lecture-demonstration will feature a new approach to music designed to teach traditional harmony so that students learn quickly and easily at the keyboard. The demonstration is one of a series being presented throughout the country this summer in 75 cities by members of the Frances Clark Library staff. Miss Clark is director of the New School.

Six new text-books, "Keyboard Theory," providing the groundwork for the system, were added this week to the Frances Clark Library for Piano Students.

Young Princeton pianists who study at The New School contributed to the development of "Keyboard Theory." The approach to teaching theory and harmony was developed by David Kraehenbuehl, music director of the New School.

The 20 miles of track near Trenton would be developed to study the possibility of using high-speed trains between Washington and Boston.

Mr. Boyd said President Johnson had asked Congress to approve the project, costing about $20 million, pointing out that the intention was to use primarily the facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

At the Pennsylvania's annual stockholders' meeting, Stuart T. Saunders, chairman, asseried that the 225-mile New York-Washington route was the only one that had the "likelihood" of generating enough passenger volume for profitable operations. He predicted that high-speed trains would be operating on this

A Tree Is Mourned.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Urban Blight, like Charity, begins at home. An occasional dose of the latter might well forestall the onset of the first. When a public institution threatens destruction of trees and "green spaces," it is customary to greet these threats with petitions, demonstrations, hunks, walls, editorials, and housewives and firemen to the fringes of massive oaks. Private ownership of such property precludes any outcry. And yet...

When I returned home this afternoon to find that the venerable and eminently healthy copper beech, three stories and more tall, was lying in fragments by the gas station on the corner, I realized that an effort could have been made by the corporate owners of the lot to save at least one or two of the fine trees on it. I understand that we are to have a bigger and better Sunoco gas station in place of the trees.

Now of course we know how expensive a thing is well-designed gas station, gleaming in the noon-day sun and sparkling with the sweeping headlights in the summer dusk. And what Princeton needs is a bigger and better gas station or two to keep us close to the heart of the Nation's Bureaucratic Economy.

If the Editor's Mailbox is the only legitimate soapbox for the fuddy-duddies, allow at least one fuddy-duddy to deplore the needless destruction of at least one Princeton tree. I would rather watch the beech leaves burgeon than the Nation's Automotive Elephantiasis.

BENITA H. BENDON
14 Murray Place

Police, Firemen Thanked.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I would like to make public my gratitude to the Princeton Police Force, who sent two cars last Saturday, and to the Fire Department, who sent a fire truck to extinguish a fire burning a foot or more underground in the needles about the roots of the largest recorded hemlock tree in the State of New Jersey. This tree grows in Marquand Park.

Someone, doubtless, tossed away a cigarette without first patting it out, and without thinking that the ground itself under such an old tree is composed of inflammable needles. Whether this majestic tree recovers from its scorched roots, or not remains to be seen.

This is only one of several unnecessary fires caused by careless people in this park. We are fortunate to have such card-carrying police and firemen to help with the damage thus caused.

More about Gaye Kanover

To the Editor of Town Topics: Congratulations on an excellent article about Miss Gaye Kanover. It covered so many of her talents and the astonishing range of her interests.

However, there is one more activity mentioned only in passing in your article, that I feel should receive public recognition. For the past six years, Gaye has been a very active member of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls and the local Mary Ellen Assembly. She has been a member of the Cancer Committee, a member of the Choir, Musicians, and a Worthy Advisor of this group. This activity is very important to her, and to the Rainbow Girls.

HOW MUCH IS PAID FOR?

If you are an average individual, it's likely that many of your family possessions are not fully paid for—these expensive things like the car, refrigerator or stereo set. You know that as long as your paychecks come in regularly, you will have no trouble meeting these financial obligations. But should this regular income cease, even for a year, your family stands to lose many of their present possessions. Disability through sickness or accident poses just such a threat. You can be sure you are adequately protected with a Manufacturers Life's Personal Income Protector Plan. The cost is surprisingly low. The Ivy Box Score
Harvard continued to be a tough nut to crack for Princeton athletic teams during the year just ended, but the Tigers finished above the 500 mark with the other six members of the Ivy League. Some progress was made in pacing down Harvard's perennial supremacy over Princeton; and year after year, Princeton won 14 of 19 meetings between the two colleges, this year, 11 of 18.

The Tigers' won-loss records in Ivy competition:

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Brown	9	3	0	.750
Columbia	11	3	0	.786
Cornell	8	7	0	.533
Dartmouth	8	3	0	.727
Harvard	7	11	0	.389
Penn	13	2	1	.844
Yale	11	10	0	.524

SPORTS In Princeton

FIVE YEAR FOR TIGERS

Four Titles Won or Shared. One of the best years in the modern history (1901 - World War I) of Princeton athletics came to a close this month. The Tigers won championships outright in football (9-0) and basketball (22-0 overall and 12-1 in Ivy competition), and shared titles in lacrosse with Dartmouth and in tennis with Harvard and Penn.

By the slim margin of four-thousandths of one percentage point, Princeton lacrosse failed to complete the best won-loss average among the eight Ivy colleges. Harvard, top-dog a year ago too, finished with a mark of 627 compared to 623 for the Orange and Black.

Trading these two was Cornell, with Penn, the opponent Princeton found easiest to defeat (see box) a surprising fourth. Yale, Brown, Columbia and Dartmouth followed in that order, the Indians also surprising by their wholly unaccustomed last-place finish. Princeton moved a giant step forward in its overall performance, raising its won-loss average in 12 months from .561 to .623. Princeton freshman teams were successful at .697, clinch, but also trailed their counterparts at Harvard.

TWO ALL-AMERICANS. The Class of 1965 was unusual in that Coats Iacavazzi and Bill Bradley, the football and basketball captains, both earned All-American status—the former for two years and Bradley for three. The last class to produce more than one athlete of national stature was 1953, when Frank McPherson was so rated in football and Dave Tait and Ralph "Bo" Willis were All-Americans in lacrosse.

FRESHMAN CREW CAPTAIN: Peter H. Raymond, stroke of the Princeton Freshman crew, has been elected captain for the 1965 season. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Macpherson Raymond of Cherry Valley Road, he was also a member of the freshman hockey team last winter. With him is Peter Sparhawk, freshman crew coach. (Alma Richards Photo)

The presence of two players of such extreme ability was the major factor in success in the two sports. They played lacrosse as a two-way star in football in a year that saw college revert to the era of specialists in offense and defense, and the Tigers rolled to their first perfect season since 1951. Bradley returned from captaining the U. S. Olympic championship to lead the basketball team to a great 23-0 season, which included the NCAA District II title and a third-place finish in the national tournament at Portland, Ore.

Other fine records were compiled in baseball (21-8), which included a second-place tie in the Eastern League and participation in the NCAA District II championship, tennis (11-1), although its four-year string of victories was broken by a 4 loss to Harvard; fencing (12-1) and second place in the Ivy League; and squash, 9-1, a record likewise marred only by a loss to Harvard.

Five teams failed to break even: both the heavy and lightweight crews, hockey, lacrosse and wrestling. In addition to the varsity football team, the only other to finish its season unbeaten was freshman tennis, which won all ten of its matches.

NO GO AT SYRACUSE. Tiger Crews Far Back. The Navy crew that Princeton defeated by a length on Lake Carnegie in April won the national regatta Saturday on Lake Champlain at Vergennes. Some 11 lengths behind the midshipmen, and 14th in a 135-yd field, were the Tigers. Princeton finished ahead of only Columbia, which in mid-season had rebuilt its boat after dewatering several of its air men for violation of training rules.

News Of The CHURCHES

FUND DRIVE LAUNCHED

Dr. First Baptist, a first campaign to raise funds for a new Sunday School wing has been announced by First Baptist Church. James A. Phlox is executive chairman.

At the organizational meeting held Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Carl Brice discussed the need for additional space to relieve overcrowding. Dr. Glau's Holmes reviewed the church's progress and goals, and the Rev. Edward Smith, pastor, discussed the spiritual needs of the church and the timeliness of the canvass. William L. Shipwirth outlined the initiation procedure for the campaign.

A smorgasbord dinner was held in the social rooms prior to the meeting in the sanctuary. Mrs. John Simpson was chairman of a committee of 35 hostesses. Mrs. Rosa Simpson presided at the arrangement committee which prepared the dinner.

SUMMER WORSHIP SET

At University Chapel, the Rev. Richard R. Thomas, Methodist chaplain at Princeton, will inaugurate the first summer worship series to be held in the chapel this Sunday.

University chaplains, faculty members and graduate students in the department of religion will lead the services, through September 12. Worshipers will be seated in the bleachers, which have a capacity of more than 700.

Offerings will go to the Abner Church in Scotland, which in 1755 met the need of sterling to Princeton for the benefit of the infant College of New Jersey.

The summer worship program is sponsored by the Rev. Ernest Gooden of the chapel, and by the Chapel Council.

Following the Rev. Mr. Thomas in the pulpit will be the Rev. Wesley A. Kort, instructor in religion (June 27); the Rev. Dr. Robert Montgomery, Presbyterian chaplain (July 4); the Rev. Rowland Cox, Episcopal chaplain (July 11, 18 and 25); Dr. Montague (August 1); Henry Davidson, graduate student (August 8); Professor Ernest Johnson, assistant minister (August 15); Myron McClellan, assistant minister (August 22); David Smith, graduate student (August 29); the Rev. Ralph Johnson, Presbyterian chaplain (September 5), and the Rev. Donald G. Mathews, instructor in history (September 12).

CHANGES MADE

In First Church Staff, the Rev. Ralph Chaudler, a May graduate of Union Theological Seminary, has been appointed an assistant minister of First Church. Chaudler is a political candidate in political science at Columbia University. He will assume his new duties, with major responsibilities in Christian education, as of July 1.

Miss Agnes K. Smith, director of religious education at the church since 1962, has been named to a similar post at the 1200-member First United Presbyterian Church of Fairborn, O., effective August 1.

EXPANSION PLANS: First Baptist Church will build a Sunday School wing on the Green Street side of the church. In the foreground is John Street. The building fund campaign was announced this week.

Stanley G. Freck of 101 American Baptist Education Association, appointed business administrator, succeeding Chester A. McKinley, part-time manager for the past four years.

Mr. James E. Andrews of 115 Hibben Road succeeds Mrs. William Franklin as church secretary. She was previously with the Presbyterian Office of Information, United Presbyterian Radio and Television and Princeton Seminary. Mr. Franklin retired after four years in the post.

Miss Helen Stuart, a graduate of Sarah Lawrence College, became secretary assistant to the business manager in March.

TO HEAR DR. TREDICK

At St. Andrew's, the Rev. Dr. Wendell S. Tredick of the Round Brook Presbyterian Church will be guest minister this Sunday, the 10 a.m. service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. His topic is "The New Look of Presbyterianism."

Dr. Tredick, an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, is a Class of 1934, and Princeton Presbyterian, Class of 1938, has held pulpits in Kensington, Md., and Long Beach, Calif., prior to becoming pastor of the Round Brook church in 1963. He received the degree of doctor of humane letters from the California College of Medicine in 1962.

Former moderator of the Presbytery of the Washington City and of the Synod of Baltimore, Dr. Tredick is presently a member of the stewardship and mission committee of the New Brunswick Presbytery. He has served as president of the Council of Churches of Montgomery County, Md., and Long Beach, and as director of Community Chest, Red Cross and mental health clinics. He recently returned from a year of sabbatical ministry of the United Presbyterians.

ASSOCIATE NAMED

At Unitarian Church, Albert H. Markwardt, president of the Unitarian Church of Washington, has announced the appointment of the Rev. Howard Middleton Jr. as associate minister. His responsibilities will be in the areas of religious education, campus work and adult programs.

The Rev. Mr. Middleton, a native of Cambridge, a graduate of Harvard College, Class of 1962, and Union Theological Seminary, New York City. He assumes his duties on September 1.

DR. WELLS TO PREACH

At Mt. Olivet Baptist, the president of Crozer Theological Seminary, the Rev. Dr. Howard W. Wells, will conduct the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church. The sixth president of the 98-year-old American Baptist in Chester, Pa., Dr. Wells is widely recognized for his youth work. He is currently president of the pastor.

Visiting Clergy: The Rev.

Robert Dr. Robert L. Wilken, professor of Christian Ministry, Gettysburg, Pa., will be guest preacher at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah.

Topics Of The Town

The ordinance would provide a buffer and would protect the value of our residential property. Mr. Wilken, J. Shinn, Mrs. Charles S. John.

Site-Plan Highlights: Princeton University is particularly disturbed by what it regards as "Planning Board approval and arbitrary authority vested in the Planning Board."

The Board "does not" require the Planning Board to spell out all the reasons if it disapproves of a site plan. The University would like more Board, (Frank Reiter, attorney, and John Moran, director of Physical Planning, for the University).

Site-plan control would give judicial review, the protection they need without the Board ordinance, Mr. LaPlace.

Princeton needs more apartments and the city would like the right kinds of developments to have site-plan control, Lawrence Norris Kerr, real estate agent.

There will be no Borough Planning Board, but the city will have no special session July 5 or August unless Borough is called.

YANDALS ACTIVE

Cars Targeted: After a week's absence, reports of vandals, most of it to parked cars, have started the Borough Police docket again.

Most of the incidents appear to be Saturday night. Reports started to come in shortly after noon on Sunday, all listing minor vandalism to parked cars, a side view mirror broken off a 1965 Mustang reported by a Morgan Place, two reports.

Wayward Boy

Homebound school bus 22-C went off its route the other day, with a load of Pennington grade school children aboard.

Driver Clifford Snook of Thinsville pulled up in front of the Shop Brite and treated the excited youngsters to judicious remarks.

"Boy, is he ever nice!" said one of his fans.

When Borough police investigated the latter, they found no additional cars. They received some form of the side mirror, wiper blade, antennae bracket.

Pr. Donald P. Ward also reported a U.S. mail storage box located at Campbellton Road and Orchard Circle had been knocked over. A YMC-A truck parked at the rear of the Y building was also damaged.

"Evidently, this all happened sometime Saturday night," said Mr. Francis Macieira. "One gang was probably doing it, probably by cars."

One of the Palmer Square Int. victims was Harry Harrison, 44 Nassau Street, whose 1962 Cadillac was damaged.

His 1960 sedan had been stolen from the same lot and taken to Trenton where it was stripped of all its wheels, but returned.

In a separate incident, Raymond Rodwell, 67 Harrison Street, reported that the rear tire of his car had been punctured with a sharp instrument while it was parked in his driveway. Mr. Rodwell said the vandalism occurred sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning.

Correction

The dates for the summer session for piano students at The New School for Music Study are July 6-August 16.
